

WEDNESDAY EVENINGS AT THE GENOME

a summer public lecture series
presented by the university of washington department of genome sciences

JULY 11, 2018
Bill Noble, PhD

Using deep neural networks to study the human genome

JULY 18, 2018
Kelley Harris, PhD

Who were the Neanderthals and what are they doing in my genome?

JULY 25, 2018
Celeste Berg, PhD

Crime Scene Investigation: Seattle - How DNA helps forensic scientists catch the bad guys

AUGUST 1, 2018
Evan Eichler, PhD

Understanding the genetics of autism

SERIES DESIGNED FOR A GENERAL AUDIENCE WITH NO GENETICS BACKGROUND

Foege Auditorium (Room S060)
3720 15th Ave NE, Seattle, WA 98105
7PM Presentation | 8PM Refreshments

FREE ADMISSION

www.gs.washington.edu/news/publiclecture.htm