

THE LAURENCE SANDLER PUBLIC LECTURE
Genome Sciences in collaboration
with BBI & UW Medicine presents

HEY, SO I JUST GOT MY GENES
CHECKED OUT.
YOU?

SPEAKERS

- Eric Dishman, Director All of Us, Nat'l Institutes of Health*
- Nancy Cox, Director, Vanderbilt Genetics Institute*
- Amit Khera, Physician Scientist, MGH & Broad Institute*
- Matthew Porteus, Associate Professor, Stanford*
- Serena Nik-Zainal, Clinician Scientist, Cambridge*
- Heidi Rehm, Institute Member, Broad Institute*
- Tracy Dixon-Salazar, Director, LGS Foundation*

The Personal Genome

Sequencing, Understanding And Editing The Genome To Improve Human Health

Friday, November 2, 2018 | Foege Auditorium 9am-4pm | Kane Hall 7-8pm

<http://www.gs.washington.edu/news/symposium18/index.htm>

THE LAURENCE SANDLER PUBLIC LECTURE

Genome Sciences in collaboration
with BBI & UW Medicine presents

DONT YOU
EVER WONDER ABOUT YOUR GENOME?

SPEAKERS

Eric Dishman, Director All of Us, Nat'l Institutes of Health

Nancy Cox, Director, Vanderbilt Genetics Institute

Amit Khera, Physician Scientist, MGH & Broad Institute

Matthew Porteus, Associate Professor, Stanford

Serena Nik-Zainal, Clinician Scientist, Cambridge

Heidi Rehm, Institute Member, Broad Institute

Tracy Dixon-Salazar, Director, LGS Foundation

The Personal Genome

Sequencing, Understanding And Editing The Genome To Improve Human Health

Friday, November 2, 2018 | Foege Auditorium 9am-4pm | Kane Hall 7-8pm

<http://www.gs.washington.edu/news/symposium18/index.htm>

UW Medicine

